MISS EDRIE HUGHES BOARD OF REVIEW IS AWARDED PRIZE WILL MEET MONDAY

Local Artist Receives First Honor
in Seventh Annual Art Exhibit.

RECEPTION WELL ATTENDED

Interesting Talks Made by Prof. A.
M. Brooks, of Indiana University, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Shulz.

A large crowd was present at the reception given at the Shields high school by the Art League last evening. Much interest is being displayed in the art exhibit this season and before it closes it is believed that the average attendance will be larger than any of the six former exhibits.

The work of this exhibit is contributed by the artists of Brown County, Indiana. This county is fast becoming the art center of the state. Each of the artists represented in the exhibition is a member of the Artists' Colony of Brown County.

Prof. Alfred M. Brooks, of Indiana University, gave an address last night which was one of the most enjoyable and instructive that has ever been given for the Art League. Mr. Brooks knows his subject thoroughly and his pleasing personality won his audience from the very beginning of his talk.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Shulz, well known artists of Nashville, Brown county, gave short, informal talks and at the close a social hour was enjoyed while the judges, Prof. Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Shulz, criticized the local pictures and awarded the prize. This went to Miss Edrie Hughes who was awarded $25. Miss Hughes also won the prize last year. Her work shows very marked improvement since she began exhibiting here and her picture "Phlox" was much admired.

A very beautiful picture by Miss Frieda Kasting, "The Blue Vase," was awarded first honorable mention and the second honorable mention went to Miss Hughes for "A Girl's Head." The exhibit will be open for ten days and the public is cordially invited to study the exhibits.

Charles W. Dahlgren, of Chicago, Ill.—Woodland Melodies (Oil); Greasy Creek (Oil); Spring Time (Oil); Winter—Afternoon (Oil); Winter Morning (Oil); The Old Sycamore (Etching); The Island

STATE CONVENTION OF ELKS OPENS AT BEDFORD

Large Number of Local Lodge Men Planning to Attend Tonight and Thursday.

The state convention of the Elks' Lodge opened for a two days' session at Bedford today. Elaborate plans for entertaining the hundreds of visitors who will attend from over the state have been made by the Bedford lodge.

One of the features of the convention will be a parade tonight at 7:30 o'clock in which all state officers and visiting delegations will take part. A number of local Elks are planning to attend the convention tonight and Thursday.

Special Service.

The Rev. H. W. Cochran, Superintendent of the Indiana District of the International Holiness church, will conduct a service at the International Holiness church on West Brown street, Thursday night. Everyone welcome.

TO EQUALIZE ASSESSMENTS

Individuals Who Are Not Satisfied
With Appraisements May File Complaints With Board.

The annual meeting of the Jackson county board of review will convene Monday and will be in session for thirty days. The Indiana tax law specifies the date for the organization of the board and the character of work which will come before it. The county assessor is president of the board and the county auditor is secretary. The secretary is required to keep complete minutes of all transactions. The members of the board are allowed $5 a day for their services.

The board of review will receive from the auditor the assessment list of the county as returned by the township assessor. The county assessor will report all changes and corrections in the returns and assessments of the township assessors which he believes ought to be made. The board may on its own motion add to the assessment list the names of persons, the value of personal property and the description and value of real estate liable to assessment and omitted on the township lists.

The board has the authority to question any resident of the county under oath as to his assessment or that of others with the view of placing all appraisements on an equality. The board has the right to change the assessment in any township, city, or other sub-division of any taxing unit wherein it is shown that the property was listed on an equality with the same class of property in other units.

Individuals who feel that their assessments were not just may appear before the board in person and ask for relief. Each year a number of persons file requests for reductions of assessments and last year the number of complaint was exceptionally large because of the operation of the new tax law which is designed to list all property at one hundred percent value. The township assessors report that the taxpayers apparently are satisfied with the appraisements this year and it is not likely that such a large number of objections will be filed with the board during the session this month.

The county board of review has authority to assess all corporations and business enterprises which are not appraised originally by the state board of tax commissioners. This year the authority of the state board has been extended in some respects and as a result the work of the equalization board will be lightened slightly.

AGED WOMAN INJURED.

Mrs. Martha Mitchell Meets With Serious Accident.

Mrs. Martha Mitchell, an aged woman who makes her home with her son, Gideon Mitchell, 626 North Chestnut street, met with a painful accident Tuesday afternoon while walking along Indianapolis avenue, when she fell and injured one of her ankles. She is confined to her bed and it will be several days before the extent of her injuries can be determined. Mrs. Mitchell is suffering considerable pain. She is 83 years old.

Important Meeting.

An important meeting of the Sunday School teachers and officers of the First Presbyterian Sunday School will be held at the church this evening following the regular mid-week service. All teachers and officers are urged to be present.

C. D. Billings, Superintendent.

Marriage License.

A marriage license was issued today to Charles Brooks and Mabel Abel, both of Redding township.

Colonel Lehar, the popular new commander of the Hungarian forces, greeted upon his arrival in Nyirgyhaza, Hungary, by a delegation of pretty girls of the town.

ARRANGING FOR SPECIAL TRAINS

Transportation Committee for Independence Celebration Completing Program.

NEW FEATURES ARE ADDED

Sixth Street Will Be Roped Off for Dancing—Advertising Committee Busy.

Several special trains and traction cars will carry people from all of the surrounding towns and communities to Seymour to attend the big Independence Day Celebration. At a meeting of the American Legion Celebration held last night Leo Nichol, chairman of the transportation committee, announced that agreements to run special trains had practically been reached with the Baltimore & Ohio and Southeastern railroad companies. A special train on the Baltimore & Ohio will be operated late on the night of the celebration to take passengers as far east as North Vernon. The Southeastern will run a special train from Bedford and return late at night. The traction company is planning to operate extra cars to take care of the crowds as far north as Columbus and south as far as Scottsburg.

Several new features of attraction have been added by the committee for the entertainment of the people. The city council will be asked for permission to rope off Sixth street on the south side of Shields park for dancing. Other attractive features are being considered.

The advertising and publicity committee are very busy at present. Within the next week Jackson and all adjoining counties will be covered with posters advertising the big celebration.

The parade and decorations committee is busy making arrangements with automobile owners to decorate their cars for the big floral parade. Already a number of automobile owners have notified the committee that they will enter the parade and many more are expected to enter in the next few days.

George R. McLaughlin, chairman of the entertainment committee has already contracted for a number of high class free attractions that will be announced in a few days. All of the committees are working hard and the celebration promises to be the biggest of its kind ever held in Southern Indiana.

Realty Dealers in Session.

Kansas City, Mo., June 2.—Real estate dealers and brokers from many states are here today for the opening of the 13th annual convention of the national association of real estate boards.

The convention was to continue through Saturday. One thousand were expected to attend.

NUMBER OF LOCAL MEN WILL ATTEND

Delegation of Seymour Republicans To Leave First of Week for Chicago Convention.

DR. H. LETT GOES AS DELEGATE

George A. Clark Named Assistant
Sergeant-at-Arms—S. A. Switzer Assistant Doorkeeper.

Seymour will be well represented at the Republican national convention when it convenes in Chicago next Tuesday. Quite a number of Republicans are expected to attend the conclave and the delegation will leave here Sunday or Monday of next week. While the convention will not be called to order before Tuesday there will be plenty of interesting attractions at the great political show just prior to the organization of the assemblage.

Dr. H. Lett, Republican county chairman, will attend the convention as one of the two delegates from the Fourth Indiana congressional district. He was chosen at the meeting of district workers which was held in connection with the Republican state convention in May.

This county will also be represented in an official way by two other local men, George A. Clark will serve as assistant sergeant at arms and Stanley Switzer has been appointed assistant doorkeeper.

Seats in the great convention room will be at a premium and Dr. Lett is making arrangements so that the local Republicans who attend the conclave will have the best possible accommodations. The assistant sergeant at arms and the assistant doorkeeper will be insured of favorable places in the big auditorium although their duties will require most of their time during the sessions.

From present indications the convention will be permanently organized Wednesday and the presidential candidates will be placed in nomination Thursday. The nominating speeches will be limited so that not more than one day will be required to get all the aspirants' names before the body in a formal way.

Balloting will likely begin on Friday morning. Just how many ballots will be required to nominate a candidate is conjectural. This, of course, will depend upon the strength of the candidates. The convention will be composed of 984 delegates, and it is no easy matter at this time to determine how the uninstructed delegates will vote.

SENATOR JOHNSON TO STAY IN RACE

Headquarters Announces He Will Not Accept Vice-Presidential Nomination.

EXPECTS TO WIN ON SIXTH

Statement Issued Following Rumor
That Lowden and Johnson
Would Form Ticket.

Chicago, June 2.—That Senator Hiram Johnson of California, means to make an uncompromising fight for the Republican presidential nomination was seen in the statement here today that "under no circumstances would he accept a nomination for the vice-presidency."

The statement issued from Johnson's headquarters followed a report that an offer had been made to have the Californian run as the vice-presidential candidate with Governor Frank O. Lowden heading the ticket.

"There is no doubt, but that he will be nominated on the sixth ballot." First division in the national committee on seating of contested delegates came today when the committee split on the seating of two delegates from the Tenth congressional district of Minnesota and voted 36 to 12 to seat two irregular delegates understood to be supporters of Senator Hiram Johnson. The defeated delegates were instructed for Major General Leonard Wood.

Balloting on the presidency of the national convention probably will begin on Friday, according to plans of the convention arrangement committee which today made public a tentative program.

Will Hays, national chairman, will call the convention to order Tuesday morning and the Rev. Woodcock will offer prayer. Senator Lodge temporary chairman will deliver the keynote address. Wednesday will be devoted to committee reports, formation of a permanent organization and adoption of rules and order of business. Nominating speeches will be made Thursday and will be followed Friday with balloting.

The adoption of a platform will follow the selection of a candidate. Chairman Hays today announced the appointment of a committee to work on special organization matters.

PUBLIC UTILITIES IN NEED OF COAL

Non-essential Industries May Be Forced to Close for Twenty Days.

PRIORITY ORDER NECESSARY

Public Service Commission May Take Drastic Action to Relieve Situation.

Indianapolis, June 2.—Complete suspension of work in plants of non-essential industries for twenty days is necessary to insure a supply of coal for public utilities next winter, John McCordie, vice-chairman of the public service commission, said today.

"We must give the utilities an opportunity to lay in a reserve supply of coal for the cold weather," McCordie said. "If they don't do it now hundreds of people right here in Indianapolis will suffer from coal cold during the winter. If the temperature were extremely cold right now large numbers of people would be in actual distress under the present shortage of coal cars and fuel."

McCordie said a priority order for coal is necessary. The commission has appealed to the interstate commerce commission at Washington, asking that such an order be issued.

Members of the commission were to meet superintendents of coal carrying railroads and representative coal mine operators again this afternoon to devise plans for relief. This is a continuation of a similar conference sometime ago.

12 CONTESTS DECIDED.

Louisiana "Regulars" Seated by Republican National Committee.

Chicago, June 2.—By unanimous vote the Republican national committee today seated the regular twelve delegates from Louisiana. This is apparently a victory for Governor Frank O. Lowden as it was understood that the "regulars" were pro-Lowden while the contesting delegates were said to be in favor of Wood. This brings the total number of contests decided in favor of Lowden up to eight. The claim of the contesting Louisiana delegation was rejected on the ground that it was improperly brought.

Favors Suffrage.

Washington, June 2.—President Wilson today telegraphed three Democratic Delaware assemblymen urging them to vote for the federal woman's suffrage amendment which will be disposed of by the Delaware legislature today. They had previously voted against the amendment.

KEATING QUERIED ABOUT PLUMB LEAGUE ACTIVITIES

Declares That Organization Will Not Contribute to Any Presidential Candidate.

Washington, June 2.—Officials of the Plumb Plan League organized in the interest of government ownership of railroads were before the senate campaign expenditures investigating committee today, Edward Keating, former Colorado congressman, said the League has not or does not intend to contribute to the campaign of any presidential candidate.

Organized labor, Keating explained, has under way a campaign to defeat congressmen and senators considered unfavorable to it, but, he said, the Plumb League has no connection with this, except that it distributed information concerning the movement in its weekly paper, "Labor."

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1920.

MANDATE REJECTED.

The senate acted wisely in promptly rejecting President Wilson's proposal that the United States accept a mandate over Armenia. The resolution to reject it was carried 52 to 23. Thirteen Democrats voted with the Republicans to refuse the President's suggestion.

The President recommended that the United States accept such a mandate after the military commission had made a thorough investigation of the situation and reported against such a step. The commission stated in its report that if the United States assumed an Armenian mandate this country would be required to keep an army of about 60,000 in that country. This would result in an annual expense of $100,000,000.

But the worst feature of such a mandate would be that this country would become entangled in European politics. This is the very thing that America has tried to avoid and has avoided until the last few years. We have no business mixing up with European affairs. Mandates over other territories which were valuable were retained by the European powers for themselves. To the United States Armenia, the poor house of the world, was offered and President Wilson wanted to accept it. Fortunately are the American people that the senate refused it.

The rejection of the mandate does not mean that this country will not assist the starving people of Armenia. "I do not desire," said Senator Lodge in speaking on the resolution, "to have this country give to the world the impression that it does not sympathize with the Armenian people. They are a gallant people. I think they deserve aid. But there are many ways to give them aid without involving the United States."

The statement of Senator Lodge ought to clear away any misunderstanding as to the attitude of this country.

William Jennings Bryan also explains the position of the United States in the following language:

"Any mandate is impossible. The one proposed for Armenia if accepted would involve us in an enormous expenditure in a time when war taxation is still so grievous a burden that congress has difficulty in finding the money necessary to do justice to the men who served in the world war."

"It would involve us in the politics of Europe, and would compel us to deal with implacable race hatreds."

"It would involve us in the fierce commercial rivalry of the big nations."

"But, worst of all, it would compel us to surrender a vital principle of democracy—namely, that all people are capable of self-government."

A dispatch says there is no small change in Paris. Probably conditions there are similar to those in this country where small change isn't worth very much except to rattle.

President Wilson will probably try to reserve a mandate for himself over the San Francisco convention.

The provisional president in Mexico will serve until the next revolution.

OVERCOATS WILL BE NEEDED AT FRISCO CONVENTION

Democrats Who Will Attend National Conclave Will Find Brisk Atmosphere.

By United Press.

San Francisco, June 2—The Democratic National Convention to be held here beginning June 28 will be the first "light overcoat" national convention in history.

Convention crowds, instead of wearing "ice cream suits" and light summer dresses made necessary by the heat of the convention city on all other occasions, will wear overcoats and furs if they wish to be comfortable.

The warning was sent out to convention visitors today to bring the light overcoat and the fur along. This is not because bad weather is expected, but because such garments are in order in San Francisco on any normal day throughout the year.

San Francisco's rainy season will be definitely over some weeks before the convention starts, and sunny weather, with just fog enough to be interesting, can practically be promised. The fact that there will be plenty of sunshine, but no torrid heat is expected to make this convention stand out as unique.

San Francisco's weather and natural setting on the ocean, within close touch of many beauty spots, are going to be utilized by the entertainment committee in order that delegates and visitors may look back upon their trip here with pleasure.

Ocean and bay trips are being arranged. Parties will be taken to Mount Tamalpais and Muir woods, the forest of gigantic Redwood trees across the bay. Ships of the Pacific fleet in the harbor will be open to visitors.

The local committee has been assured that the round-trip rate of the one-way fare, plus one-third, will be obtained for all those from the east.

The Democratic national committee, because of the long haul across the Rockies, asked San Francisco to give $125,000, instead of the regulation $100,000 asked of convention cities in years past. It was estimated that it would cost the party $25,000 additional in preparation work. This is the first national party convention ever held this side of the Rockies.

Do you realize the Versatility of BREAD

Of course, you know of its goodness, its wholesomeness and its food value. That's why you serve bread three times a day.

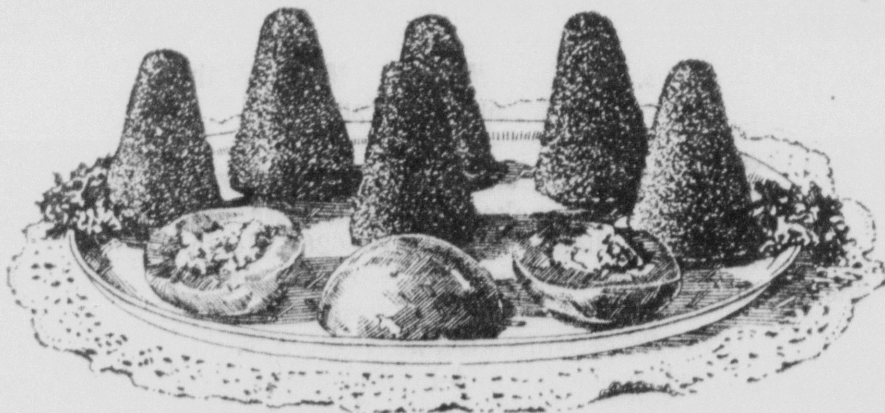

That's why you allow the kiddies to eat as much bread as they want. But, do you know the many dainty dishes that can be made with Star bread?

Here is an exceptionally appetizing one:

STAR BREAD CROQUETTES WITH PEACHES

2 cups stale bread crumbs	1 tablespoon melted butter
1/2 cup blanched and chopped almonds	1 cup milk
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind	2 eggs
1 tablespoon lemon juice	1 teaspoon salt
	Canned peaches

Put bread crumbs into a basin, add chopped almonds, butter, salt, lemon rind and juice, and milk. Heat this mixture and let boil for a minute, then remove from fire. Add yolks of eggs. When mixture is cool, form into six croquettes. Brush these over with beaten egg whites, roll in fine bread crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Serve with the peaches.

Star Bread is the brand to use when trying this delicious goody

CHICAGO WANTS TO KNOW IF WOMEN MAY SMOKE

Ordinance Prohibiting Women from Smoking in Public is Cause of Dispute.

By United Press.
Chicago, June 2—Perhaps the future visitor to this city will be stunned or pleased, as the case may be, when a light feminine touch is felt upon his shoulder and he finds himself confronted by a fair feminine who sweetly says, "Oh, could you spare me a cigarette, I left mine at home."

At least such an occurrence would not be improbable if one Chicago woman had her way. She says, "I think women and girls ought to be allowed to smoke in public and on the streets as well as men."

And yet there is the other side of the question. Alderman Max Adamowski has proposed that a city ordinance be enacted that would prohibit the women from smoking in public. The cause of such antagonism—Well, his daughter saw some of the fair sex enjoying a few puffs from their favorite brands at a certain social function recently.

BODY OF J. P. MURPHY TO BE BROUGHT HERE

Butlerville Man Dies at Home of Son, Alvia Murphy, in Cincinnati Tuesday.

The body of J. P. Murphy, Butlerville resident who died at the home of his son Alvia Murphy, in Cincinnati, Tuesday morning, will be brought here Friday and taken to the home of his son, John Murphy, on South Broadway. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

The deceased was seventy-three years old and besides the widow is survived by three sons, Joseph Murphy, of Little Rock, Ark., Alvia Murphy, of Cincinnati, and John Murphy of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. Gus Schobert, of Terre Haute. Mr. Murphy's death followed an attack of pneumonia. A brother, Charles Murphy, lives here.

To Teach Immigrants.

By United Press.
Sao Paulo, Brazil, June 2—A movement was launched here today to establish adult schools throughout the state of Sao Paulo to teach the Portuguese language to the immigrants. The state has more than 1,000,000 immigrant settlers from Europe and Asia and it is estimated that a large majority of these foreigners are unable to read or write any language.

Why a Majority of the Smaller Cars Come on Goodyear Tires

Last year more cars using 30x3-, 30x3½-, or 31x4-inch tires were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

This is plainly a result of the high relative value produced in these tires for the smaller cars by Goodyear's enormous resources and scrupulous care.

They represent the same intense endeavor to supply utmost satisfaction in tires that has laid the basis for the marked preference which exists everywhere for Goodyear Tires in the larger sizes.

This real Goodyear value in tires is available for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other car using one of these sizes, at our nearest Service Station. Go there for these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

93,550 IN PRIZE MONEY IS DISTRIBUTED TO PILOTS

Eddie Rickenbacher Characterizes
DePalma as "Greatest Loser
In The World."

By United Press.

Indianapolis, June 2—Eddie Rickenbacher, ace of American flying aces, characterized Ralph DePalma as the "greatest loser in the world," at a banquet here for the 500-mile race drivers last night.

Rickenbacher who formerly drove on the speedway race course was introduced by Barney Oldfield as "our own pal." He said the French cars added spice to the race and expressed the hope that it will be many years before a German car is seen on the track.

The banquet was the occasion for distributing the prizes to the winners of the International Sweepstakes. The prizes totaled $93,550. Theodore Myers, general manager of the Speedway presented the speedway prizes to victors in the order in which they finished, Gaston Chevrolet, Rene Thomas, Tommy Milton, Jimmy Murphy, Ralph DePalma, Eddie Hearne, Jean Chassagne, Joe Thomas, Ralph Mulford and Tom Alley.

SOLDIER DROWNS WHEN BOAT TIPS OVER IN WHITE RIVER

Clarence Hatfield, of Burket, Loses Life—Companion Unable to Save Him.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, June 2—Clarence Hatfield, soldier, was drowned last night when his canoe tipped over in White river. Robert C. Tyler, soldier companion of Hatfield, made his way to the shore and summoned aid. The police dragged the river and found Hatfield's body. Both soldiers were stationed at the Speedway and were in the air service. Hatfield was born at Burket, Ind.

Okmulgee, Oklahoma, is planning a Community Center Building. The men behind this movement believe that community development is usually a plank in the program of every progressive city. Enriching the mind and strengthening the body of the younger generation is the first step toward carrying out any municipal planning movement. This building will be dedicated to the men of Okmulgee County who took part in the World War.

Among the features of this proposed building, as given to the Bureau of Memorial Buildings of Community Service, Inc., will be a swimming pool, gymnasium, shower baths, auditorium, library, class rooms, cafeteria dormitories and club rooms for the American Legion. To establish there the headquarters of the local Legion post is an important part of the program, for as the committee has pointed out, "if this building is to be a monument to those boys who are still over there, never to return, it should also be a place of rest and recreation for their 'buddies,' who have come back to tell the story of the heroism of the fallen."

MEXICAN PRESIDENT MAY UNDERGO AN OPERATION

Huerta Unable to Go to Palace Following Inaugural Ceremony Yesterday.

By United Press.

Mexico City, June 2—Provisional President Adolfo De La Huerta is more critically ill than first reports indicated, it was generally believed here today.

Following his inauguration yesterday afternoon, the new president was scheduled to go to the presidential palace for a reception but was physically unable.

An operation for appendicitis may be performed Thursday, it was said today on good authority.

Beginning at 10 a. m. today, 20,000 troops were to march through the city streets as evidence of their support of the new president.

General Alvaro Obregon, now having returned to his status of citizen will be an onlooker. The day will be observed as a holiday throughout the country.

De la Huerta became provisional president of Mexico in less than thirty seconds yesterday afternoon. It took longer than that for him to take the oath of office, promising to abide by the constitution. Owing to his illness De La Huerta did not make an inaugural speech.

On arriving at the house of congress the president greeted the thousands standing outside. He entered the building through a lane of soldiers of the presidential guard, wearing new uniforms made for the occasion.

SCIENTISTS MAKE NEW CASTOR OIL REALLY TASTELESS

Remarkable Process Improves Famous Old Family Remedy.

Nobody ever dreamed that castor oil could be made tasteless. But the chemists of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., one of the largest manufacturers of castor oil, tackled the problem and succeeded in perfecting a process by which the taste is absolutely removed. Today everybody can take castor oil easily, for Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is really tasteless. Nothing is put in to disguise the taste. Strength and purity are unchanged. Curative, healing, and soothing qualities remain the same. It's the same good, old-fashioned castor oil that your doctor always prescribes, with the taste removed. Children take Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil easily. No brining or coaxing. You can now get Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil at all good druggists. Don't accept substitutes, if you want a really tasteless castor oil. Insist on Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil. Two sizes, 35c and 65c. (Advt.)

RUMLEY TRIAL RESUMED AFTER DELAY OF A YEAR

Indictments Charge Defendants with Conspiracy to Conceal German Ownership of Paper.

By United Press.

New York, June 2.—After a delay of more than a year, the trial of Edward A. Rumley, of Laporte, Ind., former editor of the New York Evening Mail, with Walter Kauffmann, Norvin L. Lindheim, attorneys charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States government began here today.

Judge William Grubb in the United States district court overruled a motion to quash the five counts of the indictment and ordered the trial to proceed.

The indictments charged that Rumley with Kauffmann and Lindheim, conspired to conceal the alleged German ownership of the Mail in making their report to the alien custodian.

MYTHS.

I saw a boy with tear-dimmed eye,
Who laid his Christmas present by.
He'd lost the myth who used to be
The guardian of his Christmas tree.
He knows henceforth he must depend
On mortal favor for each friend.
I only said, "mid sorrowing pause,
"There goes another Santa Claus!"

I saw an artist with the skill
To sway emotions at his will.
Apart from earth he seemed to dwell
And weave a superhuman spell.
And yet I learned when truth was told
His heart with avarice was cold.
I said, and silenced my applause:
"There goes another Santa Claus!"

Oft have I felt the power intense
Of beauty, wit and eloquence,
And found the dull regret at last
Of an illusion that has passed.
Yet, thankful still, I greet anew
The pleasant myths that come to view
And when they fade I smile, because—
There goes another Santa Claus.

Rheumatism Back on the Job

With Its Old-time Fury

No Let-Up In Its Torture.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you will never succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain.

You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has no equal as a blood purifier, scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

DAMP, CHANGING WEATHER

Brings Its Toll of Sickness to Seymour People.

Chilly, damp, changing weather is hard on the kidneys.

Even more irritating are colds, grip and pneumonia;

They congest the kidneys;

They bring backache and disordered kidney action.

For weak kidneys use a tested remedy.

Seymour people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Ask your neighbor.

Dan Hanner, 18 E. Laurel St., Seymour, says: "In the winter when the weather is changeable I sometimes have trouble with my kidneys. They seem to be weak and act too freely. My back was always affected becoming lame and would ache right across my kidneys. Of all the different kinds of medicine I have ever taken I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to cure me of an attack quicker than anything else. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone for they are all right."

Food—the Problem of the Hour

THE need for food has the world in its grip. To produce more food we must depend upon gasoline power on the farm to multiply the efficiency of the man-power available.

The following interesting comparison of man-power vs. machine-power, required per acre is illuminating:

Crop (1 acre)	Man-Hours By Hand	Man-Hours By Machine
Barley	64	4.25
Corn	39	7.70
Cotton	168	79
Hay	21	8.45
Oats	66	4.25
Potatoes	109	38
Rice	62	17
Rye	63	4.25
Wheat	61	4.25

The United States has changed from an agricultural into a semi-industrial nation. Never again will it see the day when 97 percent of its population dwells on farms. Yet the fact remains that the United States must feed itself, and the only way this can be done is through intensive soil cultivation, made possible by automotive machinery.

On the farms of the Middle West the gasoline tractor, truck, and automobile are multiplying the productiveness of man-power, and are doing their part in furnishing an adequate supply of food-stuffs.

Throughout this great section the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed a system of distribution which insures the farmer an adequate supply of gasoline and lubricating oils. This system is based upon huge storage depots, fed from three large modern refineries.

Anticipation of possible difficulties is but one of the many burdens the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) assumes in order that consumers of the Middle West may have their wants supplied.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffing, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

The VALLEY of the GIANTS

By PETER B. KYNE
Author of "Cappy Ricks"

Copyright by Peter B. Kyne
To Bryce's infinite surprise the Colonel smiled. "Oh, very well," he replied. "I guess you've got the bulge on me, young man. Do you mind if I sit in the warm cab of my own engine? I came away in such a hurry I quite forgot my overcoat."

"Not at all. I'll sit up there and keep you company." Half an hour passed. An automobile came slowly up Water street and paused half a block away, evidently reconnoitering the situation. Instantly the Colonel thrust his head out the cab window.

"Sexton!" he shouted. "Cardigan's cutting in a crossing. He's holding me here against my will. Get the mill crew together and phone for Rondeau and his woods-crew. Send the switch-engine and a couple of flats up for them. Phone Poundstone. Tell him to have the chief of police—"

Bryce Cardigan's great hand closed over the Colonel's neck, while down Water street a dark streak that was Buck Ogilvy sped toward the automobile, intending to climb in and make Pennington's manager a prisoner also. He was too late, however. Sexton swung his car and departed at full speed down Water street, leaving the disappointed Buck to return panting to the scene of operations.

Bryce Cardigan released his hold on Pennington's neck. "You win, Colonel," he announced. "No good can come of holding you here any longer. Into your car and on your way."

"Thank you, young man," the Colonel answered, and there was a metallic ring in his voice. He looked at his watch in the glare of a torch. "Plenty of time," he murmured. "Curfew shall not ring tonight." Quite deliberately he climbed into the mayor's late source of woe and breezed away.

Colonel Pennington did not at once return to his home, however. Instead he drove up to the business center of the town. The streets were deserted, but one saloon—the Sawdust Pile—was still open.

Pennington strode through the bar and into the back room, where a number of poker games were in progress. For a moment he stood, his cold, opifidian glance circling the room until it came to rest on no less a personage than the Black Minora, an individual with whom the reader has already had some slight acquaintance. It will be recalled that the Black Minora led the futile rush against Bryce Cardigan that day in Pennington's woods.

The Colonel approached the table where the Black Minora sat thumbing the edges of his cards, and touched the cholo on the shoulder. The Black Minora turned, and Pennington nodded to him to follow; whereupon the latter cashed in his chips and joined his employer on the sidewalk. Here a whispered conversation ensued, and at its conclusion the Black Minora nodded vigorously.

"Sure!" he assured the Colonel. "I'll fix 'em good and plenty." Together Pennington and the Black Minora entered the automobile and proceeded swiftly to the Laguna Grande Lumber company's mill office. From a locker the Colonel produced a repeating rifle and three boxes of cartridges, which he handed to the cholo, who departed without further ado into the night.

Twenty minutes later, from the top of a lumber pile in Cardigan's drying yard, Bryce Cardigan saw the flash of a rifle and felt a sudden sting on his left forearm. He leaped around in front of the cowcatcher to gain the shelter of the engine, and another bullet struck at his feet and ricocheted off into the night. It was followed by a fusillade, the bullets kicking up the freshly disturbed earth among the workers and sending them scurrying to various points of safety. In an instant the crossing was deserted, and work had been stopped, while from the top of the adjacent lumber pile the Black Minora poured a stream of lead and filthy invective at every point which he suspected of harboring a Cardigan follower.

"I'd like to plug him," Buck murmured.

"What would be the use? This will be his last night in Humboldt county—"

A rifle shot rang out from the side of B street; from the lumber pile across the street, Bryce and Ogilvy heard a suppressed grunt of pain, and a crash as of a breaking board. Instantly out of the shadows George Sea Otter came padding on velvet feet, rifle in hand—and then Bryce understood.

"All right, boss," said George simply as he joined Bryce and Ogilvy under the lee of the locomotive. "Now we get busy again."

"Safe-o, men," Ogilvy called. "Back to the job." And while Bryce, followed by the careless George Sea Otter, went into the lumber yard to secure the enemy, Ogilvy set an example to the men by stepping into the open and starting briskly to work with a shovel.

At the bottom of the pile of lumber the Black Minora was discovered with a severe flesh wound in his right hip; also he was suffering from numerous bruises and contusions. George Sea Otter possessed himself of the fallen cholo's rifle, while Bryce picked the wretch up and carried him to his automobile.

"Take the swine over to the Laguna Grande Lumber company's hospital and tell them to patch him up," he ordered George Sea Otter. "I'll keep both rifles and the ammunition here for Jules Rondeau and his woods gang. They'll probably be dropping in on us about 2 a. m. If I know anything about Colonel Pennington's way of doing things."

Having dispatched the Black Minora to hold up the work until the arrival of reinforcements, Colonel Pennington fairly burned the streets en route to his home. He was desirous of getting into a heavy mist before venturing forth again into the night air.

The violent slam with which he closed the front door after him brought Shirley, in dressing gown and slippers, to the staircase.

"Uncle Seth!" she called. "What's the matter?"

"There's the devil to pay," he answered. "That fellow Cardigan is back of the N. C. O., after all, and he and Ogilvy have a gang of fifty men down at the intersection of Water and B streets, cutting in a jump-crossing of our line."

He dashed into the living room, and she heard him calling frantically into the telephone.

"At last!" she murmured, and crept down the stairs, pausing behind the heavy portieres at the entrance to the living room.

"That you, Poundstone?" she heard him saying rapidly into the transmitter. "Pennington speaking. Young Bryce Cardigan is behind that N. C. O. outfit, and it's a logging road and not intended to build through to Grant's Pass at all. Cardigan and Ogilvy are at Water and B streets this very instant with a gang of fifty men cutting in a jump-crossing of my line, curse them! They'll have it in by six o'clock tomorrow morning if something isn't done—and once they get it in, the tat's in the fire.

"Telephone the chief of police and order him to take his entire force down there, if necessary, and stop that work. To blazes with that temporary franchise! You stop that work for two hours, and I'll do the rest. Tell the chief of police not to recognize that temporary franchise. He can be suspicious of it, can't he, and refuse to let the work go on until he finds out? And you can be hard to find for two hours, can you not? Delay, delay, man! That's all I want. . . . Yes, yes, I understand. You get down about daylight and roast the chief of police for interfering, but in the meantime . . . Thank you, Poundstone, thank you. Good-by!"

He stood at the telephone, the receiver still held to his ear and his right forefinger holding down the hook while the line cleared. When he spoke again, Shirley knew he was calling his mill office. He got a response immediately, notwithstanding the lateness of the hour.

"Sexton? Pennington speaking. I've sent over the Black Minora with a rifle and sixty rounds of ammunition."

What? You can hear him shooting already? Bully boy with a crockery eye! He'll clean the gang out and keep them from working until the police arrive. You've telephoned Rondeau, have you? Good! He'll have his men waiting at the log landing, and there'll be no delay. Sexton, we've got to block them. It means a loss of millions to me if we fail!"

Shirley was standing in the doorway as he faced about from the telephone. "Uncle Seth," she said quietly, "use any honorable method of defeating Bryce Cardigan, but call off the Black Minora. I shall hold you personally responsible for Bryce Cardigan's life, and if you fail me, I shall never forgive you."

"Silly, silly girl!" he soothed her. "Don't you know I would not stoop to bush-whacking? There's some shooting going on, but its wild shooting, just to frighten Cardigan and his men off the job."

"You can't frighten him," she cried passionately. "You know you can't. He'll kill the Black Minora, or the Black Minora will kill him. Go instantly and stop it."

"All right, all right!" he said rather humbly, and sprang down the front steps into the waiting car. "I'll play the game fairly, Shirley, never fear."

She stood in the doorway and watched the red tail-light, like a malevolent eye, disappear down the street. And presently as she stood there, down the boulevard a huge gray car came slipping noiselessly—so noiselessly, in fact, that Shirley recognized it by that very quality of silence. It was Bryce Cardigan's Napier.

"George!" she called. "Come here."

TOO PRETTY.

"That's a stunning stenogra-

"So she is," replied Mr. Giddisuch coloring and such a figure?"

marked the other. "Has he any stay-

"He has that," replied the first. "He seventy-six, and he's stayed there ever since."—Boston Transcript.

Japan to Grow Wool.

Japan is experimenting to discover a satisfactory breed of sheep for a local supply of wool. When this breed is established a few head each will be given to farmers who will be instructed in sheep raising. It is hoped that with the growth of this industry there will be a ready market for mutton and tanning leather.

The Difficult Start.

"How do you begin a story?" said the inquisitive young woman.
"Ah," said Mr. Penwidge, with a lauguid, literary gaze, "that is the hard part. I always begin by finding an editor who thinks he might care to print it after I wrote it."

CITY MEN BADLY NEEDED ON FARMS

Shortage of Hired Labor Threatens to Curtail Production of Food.

MEREDITH MAKES AN APPEAL

Increase of Wages From 15 to 25 Per cent Fails to Relieve Situation—Total Acreage Undoubtedly Will Be Reduced.

Washington—With a shortage of hired farm labor, as acute as in 1918, threatening to curtail food production on American farms, E. T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, has issued an appeal to city men, college students and others to spend their vacations working on farms, particularly as helpers in harvest fields.

Reports secured by the federal department from its representatives in practically every state in the Union show that the supply of hired farm labor in this country is only about 72 per cent of the normal supply, compared with approximately 84 per cent of a normal supply a year ago. This year's shortage is almost exactly the same as that of two years ago when large numbers of men were in military service.

May Cut Production.

The present shortage has arisen in spite of the fact that farm wages are 15 to 25 per cent higher than last year. The situation, unremedied, cannot fail to have unfavorable effect on production, according to the United States department of agriculture, and will tend to prevent any reduction in the prices of farm products. While the total acreage undoubtedly will be reduced as a result of the present situation, it will not be in as large proportion as the reduction in the labor supply, because the farmers with their families are exerting themselves to the utmost to overcome their handicap.
Cultivation this year will be less intensive than formerly. More land will be put into grass and such other crops as require a minimum of labor. It is said, and the tilled fields will be less intensively cultivated.

Secretary Meredith calls on all business men and students to spend their summer holidays helping relieve the present situation and so aid in combating high living costs. In making this appeal it is recognized that, at the outset at least, such labor is not as efficient as experienced farm labor, but the excellent results secured in 1918, when city men in large numbers aided the farmers, leave no doubt as to the success of the present drive if the men will respond.

Plan to Help Farmers.

The United States department of agriculture, was represented by Asher Hobson at the meeting of the National Farm Labor conference held in Kansas City recently and the office of farm management, of which Mr. Hobson is assistant chief, is laying plans looking toward offering effective aid in dealing with the farm labor situation, particularly in the harvest season. It is expected that definite announcement regarding work along this line will be made in the near future. Until other provision has been made by the department all persons interested in finding work on farms should write to the directors of agricultural extension at the agricultural colleges in the various states. These directors are prepared to supply the names of county agents having farms in their respective counties that need farm labor. By this method anyone desiring to help on a farm can get in direct communication with the farmer.

Belgian Industries.

According to the investigation of the labor inspection service, which ignored production figures, the labor employed in all other Belgian industries in December, 1919, represented 70 per cent of the 1913 total of 412,462 workmen.
Half of the establishments covered were employing at least 75 per cent of their prewar personnel. In the food industries 89 per cent of the former personnel was employed. In the construction industries, 86 per cent, in the glass industries 81 per cent, and in the paper trade 78 per cent. Other percentages, based on 1914 employment figures are: Chemical industries, 74 per cent; ceramic products, 71 per cent; furniture and woodworking, 66 per cent; textiles, 61 per cent (general average reduced by slump in the linen industry); tanneries, 58 per cent.
Transportation of various kinds engaged 7 per cent more operatives than in 1913, although the traffic on the state railways is by no means equal to the prewar volume.

Brazilian Aviation Enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm for aviation has reached such a point in Brazil that important factories of France, Great Britain, Italy, and the United States have sent representatives to that country. These have been devoting several months to the study of the market, and have tried to win concessions from the government. "With the exception of Great Britain, all the manufacturers have sent machines, and there are daily flights. Aerial service, both freight and passenger, is to be established by a resident British company, between the chief cities of the republic.

"WILL PRAISE IT LONG AS I LIVE"

Terre Haute Woman Gains Fifteen Pounds and Recovers Health by Taking Tanlac.

Another splendid endorsement for Tanalac that will be read with interest by the people of Indiana was given by Mrs. Mabel Brady, 212 South Second street, Terre Haute, a few days ago. Mrs. Brady has lived in Terre Haute all her life and her many friends will be glad to learn of her wonderful improvement.

"Besides getting relief from my suffering," said Mrs. Brady, "I have gained fifteen pounds in weight and now I know for my-self what a grand medicine Tanlac is.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac I had been suffering from indigestion and pains in my stomach and sides for five years. I was up at all hours of the night in so much pain that I couldn't sleep, and during the day I was so nervous, weak and dizzy that it was next to impossible for me to do my housework.

"I tried nearly every medicine I heard of and in May, 1919, underwent an operation, but Tanlac has done me more good than everything else put together. When I began taking it I only weighed one hundred and ten pounds and I now weigh one hundred and twenty-five. I am eating anything I want and the pains have disappeared from my stomach and sides entirely. My sleep is now sound and restful and I have picked up so much in strength that it's no longer an effort for me to look after my two little boys and do my housework. Tanlac has certainly made life worth living for me and I will praise it the longest day I live."

Tanalac is sold in Seymour by Maxon's Pharmacy, and in Crothers-ville by C. W. Taulman and in Brownsburg by Chas. Brock.

THE YEARS.

When I was young and twenty I'd run a many mile.
And when I came to thirty
I'd sit and rest awhile.
And now that I am thirty-five
I am the sleepiest man alive.

But maybe when I'm forty I'll shake my legs again,
And walk from then till fifty
With young and striding men,
And hiltawd go in sixty's year,
To see how yet the counties fare.

When I am old and eighty
All treasures will be done
Of love and silly bitterness,
And I shall watch the sun
Go out, and little heed the fear That snote upon my middle year.
—John Drinkwater in London Sphere.

GARDEN FAR ABOVE GROUND

New York Hotel to Have Flowers and Shrubby on Roof of Its Fourteenth Floor.

A unique idea in construction has been worked out in connection with a hotel now being built at New York.
At the fourteenth floor there is a setback of a 12-foot depth made necessary in order to comply with New York city's zoning law, which requires that at certain distances from the ground, floors must be built back from the front of the structure. In the case of this hotel the fourteenth floor setback is a bare roof area running the entire length of the block from Fifty-first to Fifty-second streets. Instead of leaving this space, 200 by 12 feet unoccupied, a regular lawn with grass, flower beds and shrubbery, will be substituted. This will give the occupants of the floor a veritable front yard although some 200 feet above street level.
At the front of the yard along the entire Park avenue side will be an artistic balustrade and lattice work so that persons may utilize the little touch of green, far above the street without danger or inconvenience.

Longing for Departed Days!

Placid and milklike as our disposition is, we'd barter a couple of the years remaining in which our friends may enjoy it if some time before we wear out entirely we could sit serene and aloof!

And have our landlord come in meekly to beg: "I hope you don't think of moving this year."

And let our tailor approach humbly to say: "I trust you'll give me your custom, sir."

And see our butcher slink in, hat in hand, to whisper: "I wish you'd give me your order."

And then we'd sneer kind of vindictive-like and roar, just as mean as we could, "Ha-hah! You do, do you?"— Seattle Post-Intelligencer.
